discrimination by or against residents, visitors, workers, city employees or city businesses. In all that we do as a City government, we pledge to treat everyone fairly, respectfully, and without bias, regardless of their color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, marital status, familial status, immigration status, sexual orientation, age, income, or disability.

Racial Equity Narrative²

The City of Roseville is dedicated to creating an inclusive community where the predictability of success is not based on race or ethnicity.

The actions of government at the federal, state, and local level have created racial disparities that continue to harm our community. Rectifying these disparities is critical to the development of a vibrant community and a high quality of life for all residents.

All City Departments will prioritize racial equity in their planning, delivery, and evaluation of programs, policies, and services.

The City of Roseville is committed to taking tangible steps to normalize, organize, and operationalize racial equity principles and tools, with an eye toward impactful and sustainable outcomes that create a more equitable community.

Introduction

Background

Roseville government's ("Roseville") racial equity work became organized in 2018, when a small cohort of staff members participated in a training program offered by the Government Alliance on Race and Equity (GARE). With the guidance provided by this training, the GARE cohort developed Roseville's racial equity narrative and began to create a strategic plan of specific actions the City could take to incrementally improve racial equity. Membership in this core group has changed since that time, and it is now being formalized as the DEI Strategy Team for Roseville's continuing racial equity work. The primary role of the team is to evaluate, recommend and help implement activities, programs, and campaigns that further the development and adoption, monitoring, and reporting of this Strategic Racial Equity Action Plan for the City of Roseville.

Our activities have included:

- Snow plowing and on-street parking: Evaluated community engagement feedback and analyzed current city policy using a racial equity toolkit to understand any adverse impacts the policy may have on BIPOC community. Determined that a change in the policy may have an adverse impact, and did not approve any changes. Using a model of direct, multilingual engagement method, saw a 98% increase in input over the traditional communication methods used to collect feedback. The engagement model for collecting feedback was used in additional city efforts, including the neighborhood improvement program.³

- Initiated a series of all-staff trainings intended to begin the process of normalizing racial equity as part of the daily mindset of a City employee.
- Followed best practice by incorporating a racial equity “lens” in Roseville’s 2040 Comprehensive Plan to ensure decisions made about the future of the city are race conscious, not merely race-neutral as earlier comprehensive plans had been⁴.
- Updated the zoning code to identify and remove seemingly race-neutral provisions that have had the effect of fortifying structures of racial segregation and to incorporate provisions intended to foster diversity, inclusion, and racial equity.
- Adopted a Commitment to Diversity staffing program in the Police Department to retain eligible and qualified Community Service Officers, Cadets and reserve officers that are considered minorities in law enforcement.⁵
- Established the Roseville Police Department Multicultural Advisory Committee (MAC) to help strengthen community outreach and ~~to foster~~ to foster honest, ongoing and focused conversation between members of the community, police officers and other city staff in Roseville.⁶
- Created the City of Roseville’s first Racial Equity Action Plan.⁷
- Incorporating equity and inclusion principles into RFP scoring plans.
- Analyzing the name of Pocahontas Park utilizing a racial equity lens and engaging the community for discussion about its cultural appropriateness.
- Developed improvements for inclusive play at Central Park – Victoria, addressing additional dimensions of diversity
- More work continues at the department and program levels.

Our Commitments

Roseville City Government fully commits to the long-term work of becoming culturally competent and responsive, welcoming, and inclusive of all people both within and outside our organization, as well as in the range of issues and challenges that we engage in. This includes (but is not limited to):

- Improving engagement with community members of different racial, cultural, economic, and religious backgrounds, and ages, as well as those with varying physical abilities, gender identities and sexual orientations.
 - While diversities of all personal characteristics are important, Roseville has decided to focus its efforts on racial equity with the expectation that work to dismantle structural racism will not only benefit all persons but, because racism intersects so widely with other forms of oppression, antiracist work will facilitate

We Will Deliver Results

- 8.5% Asian alone
- 74.5% White alone

Demographic trends suggest that Roseville's diversity is increasing¹³

The City of Roseville is actively working to provide ethical, efficient, and responsive local government to create and enforce city policies, defend the safety of all community members, support the local economy, and provide public services. We must ensure we are providing quality programs and services that reflect the unique needs of all communities within the City of Roseville.

The main purpose of this Strategic Racial Equity Action Plan (SREAP) is to help us measure and significantly improve our results with culturally diverse workforce, businesses, representation and programming. Such results include, but are not limited to, improvements in:

¹³ ISD623 Demographic Report, October 2016

We have chosen ___ high-impact area(s) in which to make measurable improvements over the next year. By [date], we will know what we are doing to achieve our goals, why we are doing those things, what the results should be, and how well we are doing compared to our own past results and the results of others. We will have processes in place to ensure our resources are sufficient and being appropriately applied to get results. Finally, we will analyze our new results and revise our plan as needed.

Equity Plan Development

This Strategic Racial Equity Action Plan (SREAP) is the next logical step toward operationalizing our commitment to diversity, inclusion, and equity. This is the second SREAP, following training and the development of a prior work plan in participation with the GARE program. It is based on [activities, assessment results], feedback and lessons learned through staff development over the last few years, as well as collaboration with community leaders seeking to improve diversity, cultural inclusiveness, and racial equity.

We believe this plan shows careful consideration of high-impact actions, understanding of individual and organizational capacities, a desire to authentically engage people from culturally diverse backgrounds as key assets, and a commitment to achieving measurable results from our chosen activities.

Other Diversity and Inclusion Activities

Diversity and inclusion work are happening in many ways throughout the city of Roseville. This plan is not intended to restrict that work, but rather identify our required minimum efforts necessary to achieve key diversity and inclusion goals over the next year. Leaders and managers are welcome to support additional opportunities to deliver equity results as their resources allow, if the enclosed Wildly Important Goals (WIGs) are on accomplished on time.

Main Audience

This plan is written specifically to guide the city of Roseville senior leaders and staff in:

- Prioritizing DEI priorities by the unique needs of each department and the community
- Deciding how to allocate organizational resources;
- Executing work plan priorities and related tasks; and/or
- Generally supporting the city's commitment to equity

The target audience for this plan are senior leaders, supervisors, program managers and special teams. These groups will refer to this SREAP as we make decisions about where and how to assign people, money, materials, time, energy and attention. city leaders will also work to hold direct reports accountable in achieving these equity goals.

Other Audiences

For transparency and accountability, this plan will be communicated in a public meeting and easily accessible to all residents, staff, councilmembers, volunteers, vendors, partners, and other key stakeholders so they are knowledgeable about our path forward. The city of Roseville is committed to engage the community and use the feedback, where and as necessary, to meet the goals outlined in the SREAP.

Community

Individuals who live, work, study or visit the city of Roseville. Individuals that receive city services such as residents, businesses, and those who do not live in the geographic boundaries of the City of Roseville but participate in its activities (i.e., study, visit, or are program participants).

Culture

Culture is a social system that includes a group's shared language, customs, beliefs, values and institutions. Culture affects our thoughts and actions, often without us even being aware.

Customers

Individuals who currently, or potentially, interact with Roseville City Government.

Diversity

The presence of variety in one place. We often measure it based on the variety of demographics and their intersections within the city of Roseville, as defined by the U.S. Census Bureau, including race, religion, national origin, gender, marital status, familial status, immigration status, sexual orientation, age, income, or ability. Diversity may also describe a set of actions to accommodate variety. For the purposes of the SREAP, "Diversity" refers to the variety of demographics and their intersections within the city of Roseville as defined by the US Census bureau, such as race, ethnicity, age, gender, disability, income level, and other meaningful socio-economic differences.

Ethnicity

Describes a group of people who share a distinct culture, religion, language or place of origin. It is a category independent of Race. Therefore, in the U.S., people of the same ethnicity may be members of different *rac*es, such as Black Hispanics (such as people from Cuba, Brazil or Dominican Republic).

Equity

Freedom from systemic bias or favoritism. Parity across differences. Product and service access, opportunity, quality and outcomes that do not vary by race, gender, marital status, familial status, immigration status, sexual orientation, age, income, ability, or any other socio-economic differences.

Inclusion

Including many different types of people and treating them all fairly and equally.

¹⁴ These definitions are used by CultureBrokers in the Diamond Inclusiveness System. They are adapted from multiple sources.

People of Color

The term used in this plan as shorthand, also referenced as BIPOC, to describe a person who identifies as a member of at least one of the following racial census categories: Black or African American, Asian, American Indian and Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian, other Pacific Islander, some other race, and Hispanic. We recognize the problems inherent in using such a broad term. However, we use it only to increase plan readability.

Race

In the U.S., race is a construct that established various categories of people and a hierarchy of their value to society. In that worldview, people have, according to their physical characteristics, innate qualities that define them as different.

Principles

The following principles must be front and center when executing this SREAP.

Use Disaggregated Data and Information

One of the drivers of disparity is the inability or unwillingness to examine results of policies and activities for segmented racial, ethnic or cultural groups. To achieve equity, therefore, we must collect and analyze quantitative and qualitative information in this way. Collect data segmented (at minimum) by census-based racial and ethnic categories and use that data to create options and make decisions.

Make Data-Driven Decisions

Another driver of disparity is the unwillingness to use segmented data to make decisions that ensure parity. Consider racial and ethnic information as we work. Compare results for each group against their presence in our service areas and against results of the other groups. Provide these analyses when making recommendations.

Leverage Existing Assets

We have valuable assets at our fingertips: knowledgeable staff, board members, partners, community members, technical experts and professional services, state agencies and more. Tap into these institutional resources at all phases of your work.

Use Existing Authority

Senior leaders, supervisors, other staff members and the City Council have individual powers within their jobs and roles. Explore and utilize these authorities as necessary to deliver on this Equity Plan.

Make Policy Changes

We have dozens of policies – those with an external focus and those with an internal focus. While delivering on this SREAP, uphold or strengthen policies that will deliver strong equity results. Be ready to change policies that create barriers.

Use Equity to Balance Decisions

When making decisions, give equity sufficient weight. Use segmented data, historical information, and quality comparisons. Develop a method for considering equity results balanced against financial and other business results, such as a decision matrix¹⁵ or balanced scorecard¹⁶. This will ensure People of Color get due consideration, and that their interests are respected.

¹⁵ <http://asq.org/learn-about-quality/decision-making-tools/overview/decision-matrix.html>

¹⁶ <http://asq.org/learn-about-quality/balanced-scorecard/overview/overview.html>

Actively Listen and Engage with the Community

When making decisions, use community engagement and public participation to inform and legitimize decision-making. Those impacted by decisions have a right to be involved in the decision-making process and we will ensure their contribution weighs into the decision. As part of that commitment, we will provide participants with information they need to participate in a meaningful way, and provide information on what decision their input may influence and how their contribution will affect that decision.
