

Dementia: Caring & Coping during the Pandemic: First Series

The Roseville Alzheimer's & Dementia Community Action Team in partnership with Lori La Bey's Alzheimer's Speaks created a series of virtual presentations to highlight how various programs and services for people living with dementia and their care partners have changed due to COVID-19.

Lori La Bey interviewed eight organizations serving persons living with dementia and their care partners. This series was originally broadcast every Wednesday at 1:00 p.m. on Alzheimer's Speaks from January 6 to February 24, 2021.

All episodes are available for on-demand viewing on the Series One YouTube Playlist.

Episode 1: Introduction to the series: Dementia: Caring & Coping during the Pandemic

Sara Barsel, Co-founder of the Roseville Alzheimer's & Dementia Community Action Team
Paula Rice Biever, Member, Roseville Alzheimer's & Dementia Community Action Team

Episode 2: Lyngblomsten / 2nd Half with Lyngblomsten

Carolyn Klaver, RN, Community Dementia Care Specialist/Gathering Site Coordinator - 2nd Half with Lyngblomsten, and Andrea Lewandoski, Director of Lifelong Learning and the Arts - Lyngblomsten

Episode 3: St. Anthony Park Area Seniors and Embracing Journeys

Katharine Tondra, Program Director, St. Anthony Park Area Seniors (At Home Network) and Krisie Barron, Embracing Journeys, Care Partner Specialist

Episode 4: FamilyMeans

Jenny West, Caregiving and Aging Community Educator

Episode 5: Ted Bowman

Caregiver Stress, Ambiguity & Resiliency During a Pandemic

Episode 6: Brookdale Senior Living

Tresa Vaudreuil, Divisional Dementia Care Manager, Brookdale Senior Living, and Denise Olson, Executive Director of Brookdale North Oaks

Episode 7: Amherst H. Wilder Foundation

Cassandra Harvey, MBA - Program Manager, Healthy Aging & Caregiving Supports

Episode 8: Jewish Family Service of St Paul

Bonnie Jaffe RN. Case Management