Planning the future of Roseville's parks, facilities and recreation programs

The current Parks and Recreation Master Plan update encourages community members to share their thoughts about the state of parks and recreation, and to pose ideas for potential improvements to Roseville's parks, recreation programs and facilities. Your input is needed!

The Neighborhood Listening Sessions are an opportunity to explore our potential and plan for the future with an eye on community values and community connections. How might we stimulate activity and infrastructure that distinguish our city as vibrant and unique.

Neighborhood Area 5 ~ Southeast Corner

Date	Tuesday, February 23, 2010

Listening Sessions are really important to the Master Plan process. The Listening Sessions bring together groups of similar interest and allow the community to delve into specific needs that will help define the future for Roseville's parks, recreation programs and facilities. Interactive exercises are used to encourage community members and affiliated group members to share their topic specific insight and give input.
