

City of Roseville 2021 Year-End Recycling Report

Roseville's recycling program continues to be a leader in the country. Outreach and education elements of the program are an important part to ensuring good participation and helping residents understand the benefits of recycling. Participation continues to be at or among the highest in Ramsey County at 98%. Despite the continued lightening of packaging, the tons of recycling collected in Roseville in 2021 stayed steady with only a small decrease. Roseville residents demonstrate a genuine desire to support the program, understand what can truly be recycled, and recycle as much as possible.

In the current recycling climate, it is even more critical to work to keep Roseville's recycling clean and free of contamination, which is one of the reasons Eureka Recycling decided to launch a recycling app in 2017. By working with a company called ReCollect, we launched a recycling app that Roseville residents can use online at eurekarecycling.org or can download to their mobile device for free by searching for "Eureka Recycling" in their app store. The app allows residents to look up individual items to find out if they are accepted in their recycling program or not, and can also be connected to Ramsey County listings and resources for guidance in handling hard to recycle items like electronics, scrap metal, and appliances. The app also allows residents to see their recycling schedule and sign up for reminders to support their participation in Roseville's recycling program.

In 2021 we saw a continued increase in the number of Roseville residents using the app. Overall, 4,018 unique Roseville addresses have been searched through the app, and over 13,000 materials have been looked up to see if they can be recycled. There are currently 873 Roseville residents signed up for recycling day reminders: 61% of those residents are signed up through a mobile app and the rest are signed up for email, text, or phone call reminders. We look forward to working with the City to further promote this new app and expand on this success.

This year-end report contains information on several areas that Eureka Recycling tracks to monitor the success of Roseville's zero waste recycling program over the course of each year. As a non-profit social enterprise we believe tracking and reporting this data is an essential way to ensure program transparency. It also gives Eureka Recycling and city staff the tools needed to successfully manage the program.

ENVIRONMENTAL BENEFITS SUMMARY

The environmental benefits of Roseville’s zero-waste recycling program are quantified transparently using a widely-accepted environmental model. This ensures that all residents have a chance to see how their efforts can be measured and quantified. There are many ways to calculate the benefits of recycling. To better explain these benefits in commonly understood terms government agencies, research scientists, and economists have created several “calculators” to translate the amounts of recycled materials collected, and processed into equivalent positive societal and environmental benefits.

Because of the increasing societal focus on both the causes of and the solutions to climate change, it has become imperative to measure waste reduction (and all of our activities) in terms of its impact on the environment. This allows us to speak in a common language, understand the impact of our choices, and help us prioritize the personal and policy actions that we take. In addition to climate change mitigation, there are other environmental benefits to recycling, including saving energy, protecting air quality, water quality, natural resources, natural beauty, habitat, and human health.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) WARM Calculator

The equations used in environmental calculations try to take into account the “full life cycle” of each material—everything from off-setting the demand for more virgin materials (tree harvesting, mining, etc.) to preventing the pollution that would have occurred if that material were disposed of (burned or buried). Different calculators may include some or all of the many factors that contribute to the “full life cycle” so results will vary from calculator to calculator.

While there are many models emerging to calculate greenhouse gas reductions, the most recognized, and standard model is the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s Waste Reduction Model (WARM). WARM was designed to help solid waste planners and organizations track and voluntarily report greenhouse gas emissions reductions from several different waste management practices.

MTCO₂E (Metric tons of carbon dioxide emissions) are figures commonly used when discussing greenhouse gas emissions.

According to the WARM model, Roseville's recycling activities in 2021 reduced greenhouse gas emissions by 6,766 MTCO₂E (metric tons of carbon dioxide equivalent).

What do all these numbers mean?

In addition to preventing pollution, an important impact of recycling is that it conserves a huge amount of energy. Making products and packaging from raw materials harvested from nature uses a much larger amount of energy than using recycled materials. Every manufactured item has the energy used to make it "embedded" into it. Recycling takes advantage of that energy, as it is easier and more energy efficient to make a glass bottle from another glass bottle than from raw materials.

The WARM model and other calculators measure the difference between recycling all these tons of materials and using them to make new products versus sending them to an incinerator and making replacement products from raw materials. This difference is expressed as the amount of CO₂ that was not produced because we did not have to make and use all the energy that would have been needed if we used raw materials.

The numbers above help municipalities calculate and track their environmental footprint. For more information about the process of measuring the environmental benefits of waste reduction, visit <https://www.epa.gov/warm>.

These numbers, however, don't have much meaning to the average person. To help recyclers understand the significance of their actions, the EPA has also developed tools to translate these numbers into equivalent examples that people can more easily understand.

- For example, using the figures above, the EPA estimates that Roseville would have had to remove 1,458 gasoline-powered cars from the road for one year to have had the same environmental impact in 2021 as they did by recycling.
- Another way to look at it is that the residents of Roseville saved an amount of energy equivalent to 276,288 propane cylinders for backyard barbeques.

Although WARM is the most widely peer-reviewed and accepted model, it is considered to have several flaws. Many believe the use of this calculator is conservative, and understates the real impact of waste reduction efforts, but it offers a conservative starting place to measure our impacts and work towards our goals. Even with these conservative calculations, the impacts of Roseville's recycling program prove to be quite significant.

Eureka Recycling drivers educate residents at the curb using educational tags for specific problems. In 2021, drivers left approximately 1,251 educational tags on recyclers' carts.

The most common reason residents received a tag in 2021 were:

1. Contamination, including plastic bags, bulky plastic items, and other miscellaneous non-recyclable items.
2. Repeatedly having excess recycling placed next to cart while having a small or medium sized cart. The tag recommended that the resident call the hotline to request a larger, or even a second cart.
3. Cardboard not been broken down to a size that will fit in the cart. To collect extra cardboard the driver tips the cart and then puts the extra cardboard into the cart and tips it again. Cardboard too big for the cart is difficult for the driver to collect.

Amount stored, by recyclable material

No recyclables have been stored at our facility longer than needed to generate quantities to ship.

The markets generally used for the sale of recyclables

Eureka Recycling continues to use the same markets for recyclables as were noted in the RFP. Eureka Recycling has always prioritized supporting local markets. In 2021, 76% of the material we processed was sent to an end market within Minnesota, 91% was sold to an end market in the Midwest, and 100% of our materials stayed within North America.

Parks Recycling

We provided service to 23 Roseville Parks in 2021, with most of them being serviced as part of our regular routes collecting from multifamily or single family homes.

As agreed, we separately tracked tonnage for the dedicated park route collecting 37 carts located in Central Park Lexington and Central Park Victoria West at the pavilions, near the ballfields, and along the pathways. In June of 2021, due to high park usage, the city requested that we increase the service level of the parks with the highest recycling volume to weekly service. The tonnage data below for May is for every other week collection of 37 carts, and the tonnage from June-October is for weekly service of 54 carts located in Central Park, Victoria Ballfields, Acorn Park, and Concordia Park.

Overall, we collected more than double the amount of recycling from Roseville Parks in 2021 when compared to 2020 (5,620 lbs total) or 2019 (5,540 lbs total).

Participation Trend Study Report

Over the past few years, Eureka Recycling has transitioned away from doing participation studies by hand-counting the number of carts that are out in several 200 household areas throughout each city, and replacing that study with a citywide, digital participation study using data from our digital routing system.

The study spans six weeks. Each time the truck tips a cart, that collection is recorded for that specific address. This data allows us to analyze all collection during a specific study period. The percentage of all addresses in each day's routes that register a tip in a given week is recorded as that week's set out rate, which is then averaged over the course of the study to calculate the city's set out rate.

The reports for each collection day are then sorted by address and duplicates are removed for households that set out more than once during the study period or who have more than one cart. The remaining list of addresses represents all households that participated in recycling at least once during the study, to arrive at the participation rate for the city.

There are some important things to remember when looking at this participation study data:

- For both digital and hand count data, the data is based on a "per building" or "per address" basis. If a cart is out at a duplex or a triplex, we count that address as participating on that day, and if there is not a cart out we count the address as not participating. There is no way for us to know which units are using the cart or carts that are set out. Similarly, for a single family home with two carts, we still count them as one participating address regardless of how many carts are out for collection.
- The "set out rate" is calculated by counting the number of addresses that set out a cart on each collection day, and taking the average of the number of carts set out each day during the six week study period.
- The "Participation Rate" is calculated by counting the percentage of unique addresses that participated in the program at least once during the six week study period.

Recycling Market Outlook for 2022

Prices for recycled material reached record highs during the summer of 2021. Some of the reasons for this include increased demand due to the pandemic, new mills for paper opening within the U.S., disruption in availability of virgin materials due to severe weather (particularly plastics), and brands increasing their use of recycled content. Prices began to see a decline in the fall; however, prices continue to be high compared to the last several years.

End markets are optimistic that this is a typical winter slump combined with some market adjustment after the highs of last summer and there is an expectation that prices will not fall to the levels they did after China's National Sword policy was implemented. As consumers have shifted to ordering materials online instead of shopping in stores, the demand for cardboard and paper has consistently been strong and now there are more paper mills operating within the U.S. who have demand for recycled content as feedstock. That said, supply chain and staffing problems can cause manufacturers to halt production at times and that could decrease demand causing a correlating decrease in pricing. So, although pricing may increase some – many expect it not to be a straight line but to return to the occasional dips and bumps that have happened in the past.

Trucking also continues to affect pricing negatively as the high demand for shipping combined with an ongoing shortage of drivers has made moving recyclables around the country more difficult. This is increasing the cost of transportation, which can negatively affect pricing – especially for materials that are shipped out of state such as PET, steel and aluminum.

Eureka Recycling continues to have good relationships with our end markets and was able to move all our material in 2021. We have at least three markets interested in each material except for glass and regularly get positive comments regarding the quality of the recyclables we sell (including glass). Additionally, we continue to focus on local markets when possible – in 2021, 76 percent of the material we processed stayed in Minnesota, 91 percent in the Midwest, and 100 percent stayed in North America. These business practices have been in place for years and are a reflection of our values around the environmental, economic, and human impacts of recycling, and we have seen the benefit of these relationships even more than usual in the current market environment.

Paper Markets: The building of US recycling infrastructure in response to China's recent policies limiting the import of post-consumer recyclable materials actually helped the industry weather the pandemic as more local paper mills had expanded capacity or come on line in reaction to China's National Sword policy. Demand stayed strong through most of 2021 though mills started filling up towards the end of the year and paper prices started to decline. Many expect that after the holidays paper mills will have run through their extra stock and prices will likely increase in the spring.

Plastics markets were a little more volatile and varied significantly by material type. Demand for PET bottles was the strongest we have seen in years. The primary cause of this was a spring storm in the gulf which knocked out many of the virgin PET manufacturers so the industry had to rely more on recycled content to get their feedstock. The effects from the storm faded this fall and prices started to decrease – it is tough to say if we'll see an increase in PET (though this typically happens in the spring in summer). Eureka continues to engage with several brands directly about how to connect their corporate commitments to using recycled content with the actual supply chain to realize the flow of PET bottles back into PET bottles.

HDPE Color followed a similar trend as PET but the sale of this material is more reliant on the agriculture industry, as much of this material gets made into drainage tile and piping for farms. When there is significant uncertainty (such as due to a pandemic or concerns about ability to trade agricultural products to other countries) farmers tend not to invest in new irrigation infrastructure, which can negatively impact the HDPE Color markets. HDPE Natural is the same type of plastic as HDPE Color, but because it has no coloring added it is a more versatile product and can be turned into any type of product. Once colorant is added you can only recycle it into darker products. HDPE Natural prices reached record highs this year, and became even more valuable per pound than aluminum. This was primarily due to an increase of demand from brands to meet their recycled content commitments and the versatility of HDPE Natural as a feedstock into a variety of products because it does not have color. Because of this, most of Eureka Recycling's Natural HDPE is made back into bottles. Towards the end of the year HDPE Natural prices started falling – most experts saw this as a correction in the market and expect the price to rise again in the spring, though likely not to levels seen in 2021.

The third type of plastics we sort, polypropylene (PP, #5) started out strong in 2021 and similar to HDPE Natural, brand demand for this material has driven the price up for most of the year but it too decreased in the fall. Similar to other plastics experts expect this price to rise in the Spring as long as supply chain and staffing issues don't cause significant disruptions.

Metals markets strengthened significantly in the beginning of 2021 and then held steady through the year. Experts believe that trend will continue, although this material is especially sensitive to the impacts of tariffs and trade agreements as well as supply chain issues.

Log of Contamination Reported by Drivers in Roseville: 2021

This is a log of addresses where drivers have reported contamination in the recycling carts in addition to tagging. Our GPS based data is accurate enough to allow us to look for trends on a neighborhood-basis, but does not always record data on precisely the correct house, depending on the relationship between where the real cart is actually placed and how close that is to the expected collection site stored in the system. It is not uncommon for data to be assigned to a neighboring house, which does not impact our customer relations team's ability to use this information to help resolve issues when residents call, but does mean that we do not send postcards based on a single report of contamination. We do monitor this data to look for trends over time, and where drivers are reporting repeat contamination issues we work with the driver to verify the actual address before sending educational information by mail.

Eureka Recycling Composition Analysis Methodology

Eureka Recycling collects materials in a single sort collection system with all paper, cardboard, metal and plastic, steel, aluminum and glass containers combined by residents into one cart. Each year we conduct an annual composition study of the single sort material to determine the percentage each material represents in the overall composition.

Our mission is to reduce waste today through innovative resource management and to reach a waste-free tomorrow by demonstrating that waste is preventable, not inevitable.

Composition by Commodity of Each Recycling Stream

During the composition study we weigh each truck before and after to determine the weight of the material. Each truck has a stored weight that is updated regularly for accuracy. This process allows us to determine the initial weight of the material set out by residents during the period being analyzed.

The composition study starts with Eureka Recycling storing all of the materials collected in the city during a one-week period. These materials are stored in a separate bunker from all other materials at the facility. We sort the material separately from all other recycling at the facility.

The sorted materials are then baled or put into a hopper and transported with a forklift to the truck scale to be weighed. Finally, we weigh the total amount of each sorted material grade including the non-recyclable material (residual) to establish the percentage of the total tonnage that each material type represents in the overall composition.

Participation Trend Analysis Methodology

Eureka Recycling conducts an annual participation study in which both set-out and participation rates are analyzed and documented.

(651) 222-SORT (7678)
www.eurekarecycling.org

The set-out rate is the average number of households that set materials out for recycling collection on a given day. Not every household sets out their recycling each week. If they are out of town, forget, or simply don't have very much in their cart they may not have a cart out for collection on their day. The set-out rate is the average percentage of households that set out material on a weekly basis during the study period.

Our mission is to reduce waste today through innovative resource management and to reach a waste-free tomorrow by demonstrating that waste is preventable, not inevitable.

The participation rate is the number of households who set materials out for recycling collection at least once over the period of the study.

The participation rate is a better indication of overall recycling participation because it includes households that recycle at least once over the course of six weeks, recognizing that some households may not set out recycling every week. It more accurately indicates how many households are participating in the recycling program overall, as opposed to the number of participants on a specific day.

Summary of Process

The study spans six collection weeks. Each time the truck tips a cart, that collection is recorded for that specific address. This data allows us to analyze all collection during a specific study period. The percentage of all addresses in each day's routes that register a tip in a given week is recorded as that week's set out rate, which is then averaged over the course of the study.

The reports are then sorted by address and duplicates are removed for households that set out more than once during the study period. The remaining list of addresses represents all households that participated in recycling at least once during the study, to arrive at the participation rate for the city.
